21CCLC NASA STEM Challenge

by Carter Ollervidez on December 1

We Started of the program with some team building, (shout out to my partner at the training in Helena, Chris for telling me about this tarp exercise) We started with an unfolded tarp and everyone on it and went from there. As you can see in the picture the tarp became quite small, Smiles. After the exercise we then set out to create our teams. Starting with a name and mission patch, and ending with a vision statement.

My one team became the Cat-stronauts, proclaiming; Alone we can do so little, Together we can do so much!

My second team became, The Orion Landers and their vision statement is; Let's take a Trek.
